2. The concept of citizenship

Picked up on the concept of citizenship city managers and local authorities, mayors, council members, members of political parties and organizations, members of parliament (collective actors and media) of this concept is important (Nejat Hossein, 2001, 18). The citizens more than any other identity capable of basic human impulses that Hegel Smith recognized the need to call it, satisfy. Citizenship implies a sense of membership involvement in a vast community. This situation does not help that particular person that society accepts, while he also gives autonomy. Citizens as creative agents will always find new ways to express their citizenship. To shape the changing needs and aspirations of citizens and society to the rights, duties and new institutions will be required. Since the citizens about human relationships cannot be simple and static definition for all societies and all times are used, for it provided (Falks, 1999, 17-9). Evolution and the nature of citizenship at any given time can be by aspects related to the context, scope, content and depth of his understanding. A great sense of citizenship can be achieved only when the barriers faced by their actions identified and resolved. In other words, citizenship, membership enabled or disabled person in the state, with certain universal rights and equality obligations specified level.

To achieve the goals of development, requires the participation and engagement of the public, private and non-governmental institutions work and the people used their potential. Several factors influence the effectiveness of non-governmental organizations, many of which related to the mechanism of interaction between the public sector and the private sector. Studies have been conducted to prove this in a number of countries, the findings suggest that contribute to poverty reduction, good governance and participatory development has been the sponsors of these organizations. And to advise, plan and influence the official negotiations were on different floors. Forum for independence and financial and human resources to make quick decisions away from state bureaucracy, flexible behave and self-efficacy are growing. The association relies on contributions from the public, the civil society and the general principle

Participation in religious culture from the distant past attention has been given to the fact that the mosque in cities addition to the role of religion, socio-political roles had. People attending Friday Prayers, widespread participation in the administration of welfare, have local and urban. In addition, article 194 of the Third Development Plan for the Implementation of the fourth period to the institutions and people. In paragraph "h" of this Article reads:

In the Law of the Fourth Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, to continue the paragraph on this issue has been stressed that local empowerment and participation approach, based on basic development needs and identify the need for social services by local communities ... one of the objectives is the development of the state.

3.5 create a culture of participation and alignment by economic activities, social benefits

In fact, in the post-Islamic era, only institutions and places that have played a major role in people's participation union organizations, mosques and markets. The social functions of economic institutions and markets professional organizations has been emphasized from the past to the present. As during the Islamic revolution, after the alignment of social benefits merchants, guilds and religious scholars participating merchants in the revolution was obvious. The economic activities that can provide a collaboration platform. Such as private sector activities in the areas of housing and services. For example, municipalities can appropriate performance-based and participatory development projects adjacent to land owned by private owners would be of value. Creating recreational programs like public parks, commercial facilities, construction of highways, convenient access and the creation of infrastructure and the like can increase the price of land. And therefore the first to be implemented in partnership with the private owners. In this case, negotiations with the owners with the collaborative efforts of both sides, the land has more value, and the owners have not been affected not only business but often have higher incomes, Moreover, the municipality also has a significant infrastructure services.

4. Citizens and municipalities

One of the topics of urban sociology, is the interaction of citizens and municipalities. In general, citizens may encounter in the face of municipalities with active participation, passive participation or even passive vocation. Terms of citizenship in any of the laws and legal texts related to municipalities, including the municipality of Solar 1286, the Solar 1320 association law, municipal law bill Solar 1331, Amendment Bill 1331 and the Municipal Councils Act 1334, Act modernization and Urban Development in 1347 and ... not. And to replace the word citizenship of another legal term like people, townspeople, people, residents, local communities, the public and have been used. In fact, goals and programs that are raised by the municipality must meet the conditions, capacities and aspirations of the community be consistent. Otherwise, disregard for the demands and expectations of the citizens only passivity and despair caused or increased tension and chaos in the society. In fact, the success of urban management in the institutionalization of citizenship culture in the community. In fact, being aware of their rights and duties and others, a sense of belonging to the land and the people, respect for the law, political identity and welfare awareness and education on a certain level associated with the modern concept of citizenship. In other words, the rights and duties of citizens, civic responsibility, and an organization of citizens, citizens' civil rights, and citizen participation, equalization of citizenship, finally, government support and guarantees to fulfill all have citizenship rights discourse in the municipalities and municipal law. Citizens are continuously evaluate the performance of municipalities. If all municipalities respect human rights and citizens' evaluation is positive, urban management and increased reliability in the event of non-compliance with the rights and duties of citizenship and lack of attention to the concept of citizenship beyond the expectations citizens have of municipal duties, or that we will be witnessing the erosion of the inalienable rights of citizens.

4.1. Traffic and Civil Rights

Traffic is one of the serious problems of urban community that can sometimes violate the rights of citizens. Including citizen can be a waste of time during the day, environmental pollution and so on. For this reason, in some metropolises such rights to make plans to avoid traffic and toll have appealed. Contact the greatest impact in reducing traffic within the area of traffic and heavy traffic congestion and improve the speed of buses and Safe Streets, use public transportation, the environment and business activities have. Despite these initiatives and special lines to expedite the movement of ambulances and bus transport has caused. But sometimes the loss of control in the transport rights of citizens and their right to a healthy environment are on. Because each citizen to enter this area by their car knows its rights and the lack of a permit for a traffic violation of their rights count. Nevertheless traffic to its own citizens but to relax and enjoy a healthy environment is of vital necessity. According to Article 6 of the law of preventing air pollution, municipalities are required to motor vehicle traffic and public transportation systems are designed to be fixed while reducing urban air pollution is responsible for day trips. Thus municipalities to increase the number of buses and metro lines have been developed, and urban transport fleet, particularly in the area have increased. In exchange for the grant of such a right of citizens of the municipalities are obliged to observe the laws and regulations indicating the presence in this region. All citizens are required to carry out inspection of their vehicles to reduce air pollution requirements. In contrast, in accordance with Article 10 of the law of Note 6 to prevent air pollution law approved by 2002 to reduce air pollution in Tehran and other major cities, executive agencies, municipalities, police and armed forces are required to convert to gas the gradual vehicles under its authority to act in accordance with the specified timing, That this kind of citizenship rights to the enjoyment of the environment are safe. One can take these steps in order to implement Article ... Universal Declaration of Human Rights adopted regarding the right to a healthy environment. On the other hand Traffic Coordination Council in accordance with Article 7 of the Executive Regulations of the country should be how to prevent air pollution to reduce the number and length of daily urban trips, reducing in-person visits to Waste collection and how to manage it played a significant role in maintaining the health of citizens, society, and the environment and contribute to urban beautification. Although mentioned as a right of citizenship and their right to a healthy environment and urban beautification is not possible without the participation of the citizens themselves. In fact the mayor while respecting the rights of the citizens, obliged them to participate by recycling solid waste and household waste management, commercial and industrial (ies). In addition to training in this regard should be made by the municipalities, including training techniques to prevent the reuse of waste as second-hand goods, repair broken rather than repurchase them, designing products that can be reused. (Including canvas bags instead of plastic bags), encouraging consumers to avoid consumption of disposable products, moving from cans and packaged foods and remaining liquid and ... and designing products that are less material to achieve this goal use. Such as education, transport and storage of source separation of waste and recyclable materials in every neighborhood of the measures that municipalities have taken to protect the rights of citizens.

4.3. Citizenship rights and duties

Complications forced by law to be taxed and to get the right meaning. The processor should become familiar with their residency rights in relation to the tax system, and the appropriate way to inform and educate them. In fact, the tax system is the duty of the taxpayer be aware of their rights. Which can be set and communicated charter or statement oriented, realizing rights or civil rights manuals Moody, civil rights training courses, awareness and education are the mass media such as radio and television. The establishment of the Islamic Council of Islamic Councils in the country, especially that one of the main pillars of the formation of local civil society and can help to fulfill local citizens and participatory urban management, is very important. It is therefore reasonable expectation of legal basis for the country's Islamic affairs councils that have a special place in the Citizenship Act. In this respect the analysis of the content of this law is a noteworthy points: The law of citizenship and citizen word is not used. To show the local community and members of municipal councils in the city of words have been used:

This part of the legal text municipalities in terms of content as well as very direct relationship with the municipal organizational mechanism, the relationship people have with municipalities and municipal duties. Therefore, of particular importance in relation to citizens. Unfortunately, municipal law enacted in 1955 and its subsequent amendments and extensions so far as (by removing additions) is the standard practice is legal and valid, neither explicitly nor implicitly any mention of citizens and not merely among the municipality, especially in Chapter VI Article 55 - not citizens was mentioned. While the Municipal Code

What comes from the law, including legal regulation of the relationship between people and municipalities for the economic relationship between the tax payers uses the term complications. Spirit legal discourse on the topic of citizenship as municipal duties (municipal law) and Moody payer duties (duties towards the people in the municipality) is formulated. In total, this important legislation coordination and conformity with the spirit of citizenship is not necessary (Nejati Hosseini, 1862, 83 and 79).

According to Franz Schaefer, cities embodied an element of human life indicators and functions of all living in towns and cities where emerges that (Rahnamai, Shah Hosein, 2006, 9). Urban management services for the population living in towns and provides requirements of social life. But the field of the three concepts under specific associations with the concept of urban management finds. These three concepts include planning, regulation and organization.

6. Conclusion

As a result citizenship rights, the realization of peace and comfort of the present and future society. An important feature of citizenship is that citizens and the equality of the fair and its community members understand and respond happening place whatever. Knowing their civil rights, their social and political events will not be indifferent about citizenship rights and duties of citizens in the mutual interaction, community eventually led to the convergence and social cohesion. In view of the foregoing Venice cognitively overwhelming majority of citizens of the functions and powers of urban management, it is clear that as Article 55 and Article 71 of the Law on Municipalities Islamic councils, municipalities and the City Council will be counted task. In fact, to somehow imply duties and obligations of municipal management in realizing the rights of citizens. Citizens are continuously evaluate the performance of municipalities. If all the municipalities respect human rights and citizens' evaluation is positive, urban management credibility increases, and in case of non-compliance and lack of attention to the concept of citizenship rights and duties of citizens, citizens expect to be outside the scope of municipal tasks. Or the loss of control of citizens' rights or social discontent in many ways as we can. For example, the following description of the proposed work that can be performed in most human societies the attention of urban management in the field to explain, promote and institutionalize (a culture of rights citizenship) can be used see:
